LinkedIn Learning & Certification

Do the learning paths create certificates?

Upon completion, most courses and learning paths come with a certificate. Individuals can download or print a copy, and/or add these to their LinkedIn profiles. However, custom curated learning pathways will not have an associated certificate, but individual courses themselves will provide certificates.

If you give job seekers without a LinkedIn Profile access to a course that would give them a certificate (upon completion); are they able to receive that certificate or is this only applicable for those with a LinkedIn account?

As long as you are a LinkedIn Learning member, you will have access to the certification for course completion. If you have a LinkedIn profile, you can add the accreditation to your profile, or simply download the certificate of completion and add it to your resume upon completion of the course. Each user must have their own account for accreditation so please do sign up your clients for an individual LinkedIn Learning account!

Do the learning paths create certificates?

Most course completion comes with a certificate and learning paths also provide certificates of completion. Individuals can download/print a copy, and/or add these to their LinkedIn profiles too. However, regarding custom curated learning pathways: the courses themselves will provide the certificates individually, but custom Learning Paths do not have a certificate
